BEFORE AN IMMIGRATION RAID

DEVELOP AN EMERGENCY RESPONSE PLAN TO PROTECT YOUR FAMILY!

Keep all of your important documents where they are easy to find.

Make copies of your documents for a family member or close friend to keep in case of an emergency.

- Passport
- Birth Certificate
- Marriage License
- Property Titles
- All immigration documents; documents with your “A” number

Speak with an immigration lawyer to assess your individual immigration situation.

- Always have the number or card of a respected legal service provider or immigration lawyer in case of emergency. See APPENDIX A for a list.
- Other members of your family should also have these numbers.

Have an emergency plan at your place of work.

- If immigration officials come to your workplace, ask your coworkers if they are willing to stay silent and ask to speak to a lawyer before they answer any questions.
- If your workplace has a union, speak with the union representative to better learn how to prepare in case of a raid.

Have a plan to protect your family.

- Prepare a “Limited Power of Attorney” form to ensure the proper care of your children with a relative or family friend in case you are detained.
 - » This is very important, and in an emergency, would allow for a close friend or family member to care for your children rather than them being placed into the foster care system. See APPENDIX B.
- Obtain a valid passport for your children.
 - » If your child is a citizen of the United States, obtain a passport for them as soon as possible. They will need this to travel outside of the country.
 - » If your child is not a citizen of the United States, obtain a passport from their birth country. You can get this from your country’s consulate. See APPENDIX C for a list.
- Register your child as a citizen of your home country at that country’s consulate so you do not have problems in that country once you arrive.
 - » For example, in some countries, children that are not registered cannot attend school. Please check with your home country’s nearest embassy or consulate about how to register your children’s birth in that country.

KNOW YOUR RIGHTS

WHAT TO DO IF YOU ENCOUNTER THE POLICE OR IMMIGRATION

Special Considerations for Non-Citizens:

- You need to prepare yourself in case you are arrested. Make plans with your family. Memorize the phone numbers of important people to contact, including your lawyer.
- Do not discuss your immigration status with anyone but your lawyer.
- Ask your lawyer about the effect of a criminal conviction or plea on your immigration status. If you are in jail, an immigration official may visit you. Do not answer questions or sign anything before talking to a lawyer.
- Read all papers carefully. Tell the officer or agent if you need an interpreter. Do not sign any document that you do not understand.

Your Rights:

- You have the right to remain silent. If you wish to exercise this right, say so out loud and then remain silent. Remember that anything you say can be used against you.
- There is one exception in Ohio to your right to remain silent. If the police reasonably suspect that you have committed a crime, or are about to commit a crime, you must disclose your name, address, and date of birth. After you give the police officer this information you do not have to answer any other questions.
- You have the right to refuse to consent to a search of yourself, your car, or your home.
- You have the right to be treated respectfully by the police.
- If you are not under arrest, you have the right to calmly leave.
- If you are arrested under a criminal charge, you have the right to a lawyer. Ask for one immediately.
- Regardless of your immigration or citizenship status, you have constitutional rights.

Your Responsibilities:

- Stay calm and be polite.
- Do not interfere with or obstruct police activities. Comply with all physical requests by the officer.
- Do not physically resist an officer, even if you believe you are being treated unfairly.
- Do not lie or show false documents.
- Do remember the details of the encounter and write them down as soon as possible.

If You Are Stopped While Driving

- Stop the vehicle in a safe place as quickly as possible. Place your hands on the wheel and do not make any movements until the officer arrives at your window.
- Do not get out of the car, try to flee, or make any sudden movements.
- Upon request, show the police your driver's license, registration, and proof of insurance.
- If an officer or immigration agent asks to look inside your car, you can refuse to consent to the search. To preserve certain rights, you must indicate clearly that you are not authorizing a search.
- The police can "feel" your clothing if they suspect that you have a hidden weapon. You should not resist physically, but you must indicate clearly that you are not giving them permission to do a full search.
- Both drivers and passengers have the right to remain silent. If you are a passenger, you can ask if you are free to leave. If the officer says yes, sit silently or calmly leave. Even if the officer says no, you have the right to remain silent.
- Do not resist arrest, even though you believe you are innocent.
- If you receive a ticket, sign it; if you do not, you can be arrested. You can always take the case to the courts afterwards.

If You Are Questioned About Your Immigration Status

- Remember that you have the right to remain silent. You do not have to discuss your immigration or citizenship status with the police, immigration agents, or any other officials. You do not have to answer questions about where you were born, whether you are a U.S. citizen, or how you entered the country.
- Federal law requires non-citizens to carry their valid immigration documents at all times. If an immigration agent (Border Patrol or Immigration and Customs Enforcement ("ICE")) requests to see your immigration papers, it is a violation of federal law not to present them if you have valid immigration papers.

Do not lie about your citizenship status or provide fake documents. Write down everything you remember, including officers' badge and patrol car numbers, what agency the officers are from, and any other details.

REMEMBER

You have the right to remain silent.

Do not say anything about your immigration status or where you were born.

If you have valid immigration documents, show them.

If the Police or Immigration Officials Come to Your House

If police officers or immigration officials come to your home, DO NOT OPEN THE DOOR. You have the right to deny them entrance unless they have certain kinds of warrants. Ask the officer or agent to slip the warrant under the door or hold it up to the window so you can inspect it.

- A search warrant gives police the right to enter the address listed on the warrant, even without permission, but officers can only search the areas and for the items listed. A search warrant must be signed by a judge. Ask for a receipt of anything the officer takes out of your home.
- A criminal arrest warrant allows police to enter the home of the person named in the warrant if they believe the person is inside. A criminal arrest warrant must be signed by a judge.
- A warrant of removal/deportation (“ICE warrant”) does NOT allow officers to enter a home without consent.

Even if officers have a warrant, you have the right to remain silent. If you choose to speak to the officers, step outside and close the door. However, in some emergency situations, the police officers can enter your home and search it without a search warrant (for example, when a person yells for help from inside the house or when the police are chasing someone).

If You Are Arrested

- Ask to speak with your attorney or to make a phone call.
- Contact your trusted friend or family member who knows your attorney’s phone number and your emergency plan. Memorize the phone number of your contact.
- Contact your consulate. You have the right to tell the agent to inform the consulate of your arrest. The consulate can help you find an attorney if you do not have one and may offer to contact your family.

Do not sign anything you do not understand before consulting with a lawyer!

INFORMATION ABOUT IMMIGRATION DETAINERS

What is an immigration detainer?

When a non-immigration law enforcement agency (such as local police) has custody of an individual and an immigration agency (such as ICE or border patrol) seeks to arrest and remove that individual, the immigration agency can issue an immigration detainer. These detainers may request that the non-immigration law enforcement agency 1) notify the immigration agency of the individual's release date or 2) that the non-immigration law enforcement agency hold that individual for extra time after their criminal case is finished. The purpose of either request is for the immigration agency to arrest and remove the individual.

How long can the local government detain a person with a detention request from ICE?

According to federal regulations, a person detained pursuant to an immigration detainer cannot be held for more than 48 hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays. The 48-hour period begins after the local or state police would have released that person from their custody for any underlying criminal offense. The detainer may be challenged if not supported by probable cause.

What happens once the 48 hours has passed?

Because an ICE detainer only allows for an individual to be detained for 48 hours beyond what is permitted by state or local law if that detainer is supported by probable cause, the detained individual should be immediately released after the 48-hour period has ended. After this period, you and/or your lawyer should ask that you be released if you are not released automatically.

What happens if the jail continues to detain a person when the order has expired?

If the jail does not have independent authority to detain a person based on criminal charges, it is illegal for them to continue to detain that person after the immigration detainer has expired. Contact an attorney if this has occurred.

CRIMINAL BONDS

The 48 hours begins once the individual pays the bond for an underlying criminal charge, or otherwise is released from state custody. It is possible that ICE can still pick up that individual after they have paid the local/state bond, and that the time in immigration custody will not count towards a sentence. If possible, consult with an attorney as soon as possible after being detained to assess whether it is a good strategy to pay the local bond. Don't take advice from clerks or jail staff about this matter.

IF YOU ARE IN IMMIGRATION DETENTION

While in the immigration detention center, you have a right to:

- Be treated with respect
- A detainee handbook
- Access to an attorney at your own expense and legal materials
- Access to a telephone
- Visitation
- Contact your consulate
- Not sign declarations or documents that you do not understand
- Correspondence
- Recreation
- Religious practices
- Funds and personal property
- Medical care

If You Are Placed in Removal (Deportation) Proceedings

- You have the right to hire a lawyer, but the government will not provide one for you in Immigration Court. If you do not have a lawyer, ask for a list of free or low-cost lawyers.
- Remember that you have the right to remain silent. What you say can be used against you later.
- Do NOT sign anything you do not understand without talking to a lawyer first. Tell the agent if you need an interpreter or if you need a document translated.
- Remember your alien number ("A number") and give it to your family. It will help family members locate you.
- Keep all documents that are issued to you in a safe place.

Rights in Immigration Court

If you are placed in removal proceedings, and you were not previously ordered removed, you have the right to present your case to an immigration judge. You can waive your right to a hearing if you sign papers agreeing to be removed without a hearing. You also have the right to:

- An attorney to represent you at your hearing, but the government is not responsible for providing one for you.
- Have an interpreter at your hearings if you do not speak English.
- Examine all evidence presented against you.
- Appeal your case (ask for a higher court to review the immigration judge's decision).

IMPORTANT FORMS

LIMITED POWER OF ATTORNEY

INSTRUCTIONS

The parent or legal guardian (Principal) should fill out the form on pages 11-12 to give a third party (Agent) general power to make the majority of decisions and to do the majority of things that a parent would do for their child.

1. The form should be signed by the parent or parents with legal custody or the legal guardian. Both parents should sign if the child is living with both parents.
2. A different Limited Power of Attorney form should be completed for each child in the family.
3. The Limited Power of Attorney form is only a short-term solution to a parent or parents being arrested and detained by the government. The Agent will need to consult with an attorney regarding child custody if the child's parent or legal guardian is detained.
4. This form may not be honored or recognized by all persons, governmental organizations, or businesses.
5. Due to travel problems of taking a child to another country, the parents may want to sign a Limited Power of Attorney making the other parent the Agent, along with a Limited Power of Attorney making another trusted family member or friend an Agent.
6. The parent or parents must sign the form in front of a notary public. If you did not sign the Limited Power of Attorney form prior to being arrested or detained, you can ask jail staff to help find a notary in the jail. Every bank has a notary public. You should not have to pay a high fee.
7. If you sign the Limited Power of Attorney form in advance, you will have to re-sign it if you place an expiration date on it.
8. You should make copies of this form once it is signed. Use the copies whenever possible in order to protect the original.

INFORMATION FOR DETAINED IMMIGRANTS & IMMIGRANT ADVOCATES IN OHIO

ICE ONLINE DETAINEE LOCATOR SYSTEM:

<https://locator.ice.gov/odls/homePage.do>

Use this page to locate a detainee who is currently in ICE custody, or who was released from ICE custody for any reason within the last 60 days. You must enter the person's "alien number" (also called the "A number") and his/her country of birth. If you do not know the person's A number, you may also search using his/her first and last name, country of birth, and date of birth. Searching by name will only retrieve exact matches in the system, so you may have to try several variations of the person's name (using a hyphen, only listing one last name, etc.)

NOTE: Online Detainee Locator System cannot search for records of persons under the age of 18.

General Information

Detainees cannot receive incoming calls. If you need to get in touch with a detainee to leave an urgent message, you must call the number for the facility and leave the detainee's full name, alien registration number, and your name and telephone number where you can be reached. The detainee will be given your message.

Visitation: To ensure adequate time to process visitors through security, all visitors must arrive 45 minutes prior to the scheduled visit time. Visitors must present a valid verifiable U.S. government-issued identification card to enter the facility. Minors who are visiting the facility must be accompanied by an adult guardian (18 years or older). Minors must not be left unaccompanied in the waiting room, visiting room or any other area.

Sending money: Contact the detention facility for procedures on how to send money. If detainees receive funds in the mail, they will be taken to the processing area for the money to be placed into their account. The processing officer will provide a receipt for all funds received. Do not send cash in the mail.

How to Post an Immigration Bond

These bonds are posted when a person has been placed into removal proceedings while in the United States. The person supplying the bond money must show proof of identity and lawful immigration status. This person (the obligor) is responsible for ensuring that the alien presents himself before an officer or agent of this agency whenever a request is made. For bond information, please call the bond information number for the detention facility and ask to speak to the Deportation Officer handling the case. You must have the last name of the detainee and alien registration number before calling.

To post an immigration bond for an alien being detained by ICE, you must post the bond at the Cleveland or Columbus ERO/ICE Office (depending on the location), Mondays through Fridays (except public holidays) between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Acceptable bond forms of payment are money order, certified check or cashier's check. These must be made payable to the "U.S. Department of Homeland Security."

Bonds can also be posted online at: www.ice.gov/detain/detention-management/bonds
